

During the 2016 election, we removed tweets that were attempting to suppress or otherwise interfere with the exercise of voting rights, including by circulating intentionally misleading information. Below are examples of images in tweets that were removed. We have not found accounts associated with this activity to have obvious Russian origin, but some of the accounts appear to have been automated.

A man with a beard and mustache, wearing a grey t-shirt, is holding a white rectangular sign. The sign has black text that reads: "Save time. Avoid the line. Vote from home. Tweet ClintonKaine with the hashtag #Presidentialcon on November 6th, 2016 between 8AM and 6PM to cast your vote." The background is dark and out of focus, showing some interior lights.
